"Dare to Die" Chinese

(Editor's Note:—At the risk of his own life, H. R. Knickerbocker, ace correspondent of International News Service, today visited the warehouse on Soochow Creek, in Shanghai, where 150 "Dare to Die" Chinese are holding out against 40,000 Japanese troops. His dramatic story follows:

By H. R. Knickerbocker

SHANGHAI, Oct. 28.—The most bizarre conversations I have ever held in 20 years of newspaper work took place today when I talked for half an hour through a peep hole with commanders of China's "dare to die" battalion of 150 men.

At 8 o'clock tonight, the defenders still were holding out against repeated Japanese assaults.

Fortified in a gigantic warehouse at the heart of Chapei, against 40,000 Japanese troops surrounding them, I talked with the men, who have chosen to die for China in a spectacularly heroic way, already have won honor due national martyrs.

The conversation was fraught with interesting difficulties. Their fortress lies immediately across Soochow Creek, next to the Tibet Road bridge. Japanese machine guns command

Film in News Spotlight;
"100 Men and a Girl"

The motion picture in the news spotlight is "100 Men and a Girl." The fact that Deanna Durbin has achieved the heights of movie stardom in her second picture, of itself, attaches new interest to this production. The little singer has won the acclaim and sympathy of radio and screen audiences. That the leading musical figure in America, Leopold Stokowski, has devised a new method for enriching screen music and giving it perspective in sound, makes the film increasingly significant.

This Universal comedy drama with music, "100 Men and a Girl," which opens at the Grand Theatre for a two days run today, features many players who have played in notable hits. Deanna Durbin, Alice Brady and Mischa Auer scored in "Three Smart Girls." Miss Brady, Mischa Auer and Eugene Pallette also registered in "My Man Godfrey." Adolphe Menjou won praise in "Sing, Baby, Sing," "A Star Is Born," "One in a Million" and "Cafe Metropole."

Preserve the Constitution of Penna.
Reject Another Load of New Taxes

At the November 1936 elections, there was swept into office on the Democratic ticket, a horde of members of the Pennsylvania Legislature, wholly unqualified and unfit by education, business experience and ability to intelligently pass and vote on any legislation. There is in the State Senate, a Democratic Senator, who cannot read the laws he voted to enact.

If the proposed Amendments to the Constitution are adopted at this election, certain legislation will be necessary to put them into effect, and the present Democratic Legislature at either a Special or Regular Session, under the control and lash of Earle, Guffey, Kelly and McCloskey, will enact any legislation dictated to it.

NEVER—

UNTIL THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION
at Harrisburg

Had Any Political Party in This State . . . Capitalized human misery for political purposes . . . Used the taxing system of the Commonwealth to coerce voters into joining and supporting it . . . Persistently sought to create class hatreds, and used the power of government to array group against group in destructive social and economic conflict . . .

Used the police power of the Commonwealth to make citizens pay tribute as the price of the right to work . . .

Financed and fed—with the taxpayers' money—hoodlum mobs to picket and threaten the State Legislature, in an effort to deprive minorities of any voice in government . . .

Practiced such continuous and wanton extravagance that taxes now higher than prevail in any similar State fail to cover operating costs, and a Constitutional amendment is asked, to pay current expenses out of a bond issue . . .

Set about systematically to drive industry—and therefore employment—out of Pennsylvania . . .

Played open skulduggery upon the school teachers of Pennsylvania, making them the cloak for a so-called "Income Tax" amendment to the Constitution—of which proposed amendment, the "Income Tax" feature is only the "selling" argument, and the real and stated purpose, that of enabling the Legislature to use the entire taxing system of Pennsylvania for any punitive, discriminatory, or vote-catching scheme it desired . . .

Sought to destroy "home rule" outright by ripping out courts and municipal governments, and procuring by the "ripper" what they could not get through the vote of the people . . .

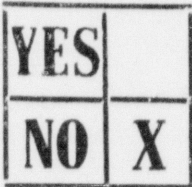

Sober judgment reflects that any group of legislators responsible for the damage they have done the State of Pennsylvania and the injury of its citizens, should not be entrusted to tear from the State Constitution its present guarantees of uniform taxation and by legislation, exercise supreme and uncontrolled power in using the tax system of the Commonwealth for punitive discrimination; aggression against unpopular groups; oppression of those in disfavor; to saddle the State with an additional $42,000,000 bonded indebtedness to finance the every-day housekeeping of the State, for the further entrenchment of the political party controlling the Legislature.

There is not a single amendment of the five to be voted upon at the November election worthy of public support. They are designed either to bleed the taxpayers for more scores of millions or to fasten the yoke of the Democratic spenders more firmly around the necks of the people.

Vote against every one of them.

Member of Legislature and Ex-Mayor of Philadelphia To Be the Speakers

TO MAKE HISTORIC TOUR

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 28.—Members of the Press League of Bucks and Montgomery Counties will convene here Saturday in the annual fall session. The meeting is to be part of this borough's program for the celebration of the Constitution Centenary.

The group will assemble at "Summerseat" at two o'clock. "Summerseat" is on the Robert Morris High School grounds. Robert Morris owned this borough once and had his home here. George Clymer lived and died at "Summerseat." Washington was there December 8-14, 1776. General Sullivan made it his headquarters 1780-81. Lafayette entertained there in 1824.

The business session of the League will be held from two until three o'clock. Then an interesting tour will be made including "Pennsbury," home of William Penn, Pemberton's grave (Pemberton was Penn's secretary); a monument at the second Indian Walk, and other places rich in history.

The Starkey and King Farms, where over 3,000 acres are utilized in raising produce, will be visited as well as the $200,000 flood control project along the Delaware river.

In the evening there will be dinner in the Economics Building of the high school followed by a program of speaking and entertainment. Hon. Harry E. Trout, member of the State Legislature and editor of the "Manheim Sentinel," and Hon. J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia will be the speakers.

DOYLESTOWN GUILD
CONDUCTS EXHIBIT

Total of 6,777 Garments Put On Exhibition at Annual Meeting

IS A SLIGHT DECREASE

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 28.—At the 26th annual display of garments held here by the Doylestown Branch of the Needlework Guild of America there were shown a total of 6,777 garments. This is a slight decrease from the 7,215 garments exhibited last year.

The exhibit was held in the First Baptist Church and was largely attended.

The meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. Howard A. Clymer, Chalfont, the president, was attended by about 150 women.

Although there were slightly fewer garments this year than last, Needlework Guilders were pleased with the quality of garments on exhibition because of the countless numbers of worthwhile garments, such as underwear and stockings, instead of smaller articles such as wash cloths and handkerchiefs.

Thirty-five nearby institutions, including such organizations as the Doylestown V. I. A., Red Cross rural nurse, Doylestown Emergency Hospital, Mothers' Assistance, New Hope community nurse, Carversville Orphanage and Christ's Home, will receive their quota of garments.

President Clymer announced that two new directors, Mrs. Harry Millers, of Chalfont, and the junior section of the Chalfont Community Club, have qualified for directorships.

Mrs. Jennie Deterick, Madison St., fell at her home this week, breaking several ribs.

PLAN EXPOSITIONS
OF SCOUTING LORE
FOR 1938 PROGRAM

Will Give Public Complete
Picture of What Scouting
Accomplishes

IN THREE DIVISIONS

To Show How Scouting
Reaches Youth Through
Appealing Program

NEWTOWN, Oct. 28.—"Three exhibitions of Scouting lore are being planned as a part of our 1938 program," announced Dr. A. J. Strathle, during the quarterly meeting of the Educational Committee at his home Tuesday evening. "They will give the public a complete picture of what Scouting accomplished for youth. We are expecting to have them during the coming Spring, probably in May. They will be conducted in three divisions of the Council to make them accessible to everyone. Tentatively, the facilities at Bristol, Quakertown and Doylestown are most central and adequate. The exposition will show how Scouting reaches youth through an appealing program of interesting things to do."

Scout Executive Wm. F. Livermore reported on the fine co-operation received during the 1937 Doylestown Fair, and that 95% of the exhibiting space for the 1938 Fair had been reserved. Appreciation was expressed for the splendid service rendered by the Cub Packs, Scout Troops, Seascout Ships and Rover Crew during the event.

Suggestions were given by Dr. J. J. Willaman, Paul V. Forster, Gilbert Carlin and Robert H. Kehr for the 1938 Fair dramatizations. Afternoon presentations will be: Tuesday, "First Aid" (Scouts); Wednesday, "Good Will" (Cubs); Thursday, "Smoke Rescue" (Scouts); Friday, "Skills" (Cubs); and Saturday, "Tent Building" (Scouts). Evening shows will include: Tuesday, "Circus" (Cubs); Wednesday, "Water Safety" (Seascouts); Thursday, "Tower Building" (Rovers); Friday, "Wall Scaling" (Scouts); and Saturday, Fair Exhibit Cup presentations.

Gilbert W. Carlin discussed the Bucks County Council exhibit recently displayed at the Third Regional Meeting at Baltimore. It portrayed the group plan of Scouting. The work was done by the members of the Chalfont Rover Crew.

There will be a Standard Window Display event during the National Anniversary Week of the Boy Scouts of America during February. Each unit will be urged to secure a local store window, and decorate it with Scouting projects. The Inspirational pageant for the 1938 Scouting Day at Morrisville will be the staging of a patriotic finale.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

The Chinese Tried It In 1068

THE main purpose of the extraordinary kind will be delegated. By it practical control over industry both as to prices and production can be achieved. The other bill is known as the crop-control bill. Under it, if present plans eventuate, an inconceivably complicated governmental bureau will be established which will regulate all farms and every farmer; which will have power to punish as well as to reward and which will distribute annually—so long as it lasts—some five hundred millions of the people's dollars.

THOSE ARE the two basic ideas in the Roosevelt mind. They involve governmental control of industry for the benefit of labor and governmental control of agriculture for

BEGINNING A CLEAN-UP

President Roosevelt recently relieved Frank R. McNinch temporarily of his duties as head of the Federal Power Commission to put him at the head of the Federal Communications Commission. Mr. McNinch's new duties, it was clearly indicated, were to be those of a clean-up man.

Mr. McNinch has begun to clean up. First casualties of the clean-up are three Communications Commission officials drawing salaries of $7,500 each. The three all obtained their jobs under important political sponsorship. One is Joseph F. Killean, director of the broadcasting division, a protégé of Postmaster General James A. Farley and of Boss Edward J. Flynn of the Bronx; the second is Robert T. Bartley, director of the telegraph division and nephew of Representative Sam Rayburn, Democratic House leader; and the third, A. G. Patterson, director of the telephone division, who served as investigator for Senator (now Supreme Court Justice) Hugo L. Black in the airmail enquiry.

Mr. McNinch did not do anything so crude as to fire these three officials of distinguished political sponsorship. He—on the commission at his behest—just abolished their jobs. Mr. McNinch went to some pains to explain that the commission did not abolish the present split-up into three divisions for the sole purpose of getting rid of the politically sponsored directors of those divisions.

"Let it appear perfectly clear," said Mr. McNinch in a nice, courteous way, "that, of course, the commission wouldn't abolish the divisions just to get rid of three directors. Each of the three gentlemen has the good will of this commission, and we should feel real pleasure in helping any one of them to get a job for which he can qualify. I'm a stickler for that."

We hope those kind words made the three gentlemen bereaved of their jobs feel much, much better, and that their political sponsors feel much, much better, too.

However, we hope they stay off the Government payroll. After all, why should the taxpayers feel them? And why is the Communications Commission in the first place?

One of the troubles with the European situation is that when the democratic powers get Mussolini and Hitler nicely calmed, Stalin begins to make loud noises—and vice versa.

Little did we dream a day would come when we would string along with the Queen Mother's prejudice in millinery.

A presumably enlightened commentator on the subject says that there is no drudgery in housework now. We doubt, however, that he has ever been required to set things to rights after three or four healthy children have had free rein for an hour or two.

The Great Game of Politics

the benefit of the farmer. From the beginning these two classes have been the chief New Deal concern. It has been the dream of the New Deal strategists to weld the farmers and laborers into an invincible political alliance, and Mr. Roosevelt has catered to them as has no other President. The impression has been created that this effort to carry the "More Abundant Life" to the farmer and laborer is an original idea, one of those great thoughts which come to great minds.

THERE IS NO hint that this idea of benefiting the farmer and laborer through governmental control of prices, wages and production and the distribution of subsidies is nearly a thousand years old; that it has been tried not once but many times, that it never has worked and, in the long run, the very classes which it is designed to serve, suffer most from it. Now that the session called by Mr. Roosevelt for the purpose of putting this ancient and discredited scheme upon the statute books for yet another trial is about to open, it may be of interest to quote from a particularly significant book—"An Outline History of China," by Herbert H. Gowan and Josef Washington Hall, published by the Century Company in 1934. In describing Chinese conditions in the year A. D. 1068, there are passages which it is impossible not to apply to the present program of the present President.

"FOR MANY YEARS," this history says, "the opposition between Wang An-shih and the historian Su-ma Kuang divided China into two great political camps. The former thought it his mission to change and regenerate; the latter was equally earnest in resisting the torrent and appealed to the traditions of the past and the generally conservative spirit of the race. The dispute grew more and more embittered until the accession of Shen Tsung gave Wang an opportunity to put his theories into practice. His main principle was the duty of the Emperor to provide for all his people the opportunity to procure the necessities of life. 'The state,' he said, 'should take over the management of commerce, industry and agriculture, with a view to securing the working classes and preventing them from being ground into the dust by the rich.' He caused the establishments of tribunals to regulate the daily wage of the laborer and the daily price of merchandise.

"THE SOIL," he divided into equal areas, graded according to fertility, in order that there might be a new basis for taxation. The produce of the land was used, first for the payment of taxes; secondly, for the needs of the district in which it was produced, and, thirdly, for sale to the Government of the remainder at as cheap a rate as practicable to await an increase in value, or to supply the needs of other districts. The taxes were to be provided by the rich, and the poor were to be exempt. Large reserves of money were to be kept by the state to provide pensions for the aged, support for the unemployed and help for the needy generally.

"OTHER TRIBUNALS were established for the distribution of seed for sowing on the waste lands. Those were to be cultivated by those who had no other work. Wang An-shih had many other ideas, especially interesting to us in these days, but to all appearances his theories were untimely for, after ten years' experience, the nation decided upon an entire reversal of policy."

This extract from an authoritative source speaks for itself. It isn't necessary to gild this lily.

"Beauty's A Charm" HARRIET HINSDALE

CHAPTER XIV

The proceedings on the last night of the Bantustans and the American Fifth Annual Convention at the Grand Plaza Hotel were broadcast over a nation-wide network. A popular announcer was assigned to cover it and, being susceptible to feminine beauty, he did himself proud.

Among the millions who listened in was a lonely young man in a small southern town, sitting by himself in the sweet-scented stillness of the June night. Lucy Lee's hurried notes had become more infrequent but the last one had told him of the broadcast, to which he must be sure to listen.

"Mr. Ames is almost certain I will win the Beauty Crown," she wrote. "Wouldn't that be wonderful? Of course I am scared at having to walk past all those judges but I don't mind people staring at me as long as I used to. I just try to pretend they aren't there at all."

"Did I write you that we are going to Hollywood? I can't remember, what with everything happening so fast. There is a Mr. Preston here at the hotel and he is a motion picture director. He—here Clyde found himself puzzling over a new and strange word, one which had not been in Lucy Lee's Carterton vocabulary—"wangled a big contract out of his company for me and he says I am going to be in his first picture. Isn't that exciting? Lovingly, Lucy Lee."

She added a postscript giving the hour and station of the coming broadcast. Clyde had driven to Rosemead that night and it was there, sitting in his car, that he sat listening to the radio announcer's florid description of the Beautyquest Pageant and Coronation in far-away Atlantic City.

It was incredible that in so short a space of time so much could have happened to separate him from Lucy Lee. She was in a different world now, a world in which he had no part and where he did not belong. The sickening sense of this depressed him. All he could think of was the radio man's description of the girl he loved, wearing robes of velvet and ermine and a crown on her head—with a vast, splendid audience cheering her to the echo.

He wondered, with a fierce pang of jealousy who this Mr. Preston was. A motion picture director, she said, who had wangled her a contract and promised her a part in his first picture. Why, she was already talking another language—and it was only such a short time since she had gone away—

Plan Expositions of Scouting Lore for 1938 Program

The accomplishments of the Council Committees for 1937 will be given at the Eleventh Annual Council Meeting of the Bucks County Council in March. It was decided they should include: Activities, "The Jamboree"; Camp, Camping and Health & Safety, "Troop Cooking"; Civic Service, and Court of Honor, "Human Projects"; Educational, Finance and Training, "Training Values"; and the Cub, Organization, Rural and Shipping Board, "The Den." Every Council Meeting concludes with an inspirational closing, and it was decided to dramatize a meeting of the Council Executive Board with its constant objective of "Scouting for the boy and young man."

Regional Commodore Thomas B. Stockham, was the conference leader of the Senior Group during the 1937 Third Regional Meeting of the Boy Scouts of America. It was held at Baltimore over the past week-end at the Emerson Hotel. During the annual banquet on Friday evening, Mr. Stockham was among the distinguished guests at the speaker's table. Speakers for the occasion were President Walter W. Head, St. Louis; and Archibald Rutledge, Spartansburg, So. Carolina.

Saturday theme was a luncheon devoted to recognizing the exceptional accomplishments of the Seascout Ship "Silver Star". Aloona for having attained Regional Flag Ship, and National Flag Ship. Commodore Stockham conducted the ceremonies. Dr. George J. Fisher, New York, Deputy Chief Scout Executive, was the speaker.

Council Scout Commissioner William Burgess, Jr., and Scout Executive William F. Livermore participated in the two day session and represented the Bucks County Council. Special reports were received on the subjects of "Service," "Advancement," "Camping," "Senior Scouting," "Cubbing," "Personnel," and an open forum was conducted for "Council Problems." Arrangements for the meeting were in charge of Regional Scout Executive Paul H. Love, and Deputy Regional Scout Executive D. G. VanDeBoe and Harry G. Nagel, National Director of Personnel, Harold F. Pote, and Assistant National Director of Cubbing Walter Seaman were on the program for special presentations.

Mrs. Thomas B. Stockham, Mrs. William Burgess and Mrs. William F. Livermore enjoyed the delightful program arranged for the women. The Chalfont Rover Crew directed by Rover Crew Leader Gilbert W. Carlin constructed the Bucks County exhibit of "The Group Plan of Scouting." "Learning by doing" was the theme, showing the projects of the Cubs, Scouts, Seascouts, and Rovers. The exhibit was transported to Baltimore by Scoutmaster Ronald Wilson, Chalfont. It was arranged in the exhibit area by Scoutmaster William M. Carlin, Jr., Doylestown No. 1; and Assistant Scoutmaster George Carlin, Chalfont.

WEST BRISTOL

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kunz, Thursday last, at their home, First avenue. Mrs. Kunz will be remembered as the former Miss Mary Corrigan. The baby has been named Rosalie.

Sunday was passed by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bessinger and children in Reading.

A new porch and other improvements have been added at the business place of Mrs. Thomas Corrigan. Guests of Mrs. Corrigan over the week-end were the Misses Katherine Riley and Rose Corrigan, Philadelphia.

Sympathy of the community has been extended to Mrs. Charles Wiggins, whose mother died recently. Mrs.

Wiggins and mother, who formerly resided here, have recently been making their home in the upper part of Bucks County.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilkinson, Sr., were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mohr, Philadelphia; and Mr. and Mrs. George Tyson, Somerton.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet tonight in the chapel. Election of officers will take place, and a covered dish luncheon will follow the meeting.

Ever hear of "Burgeo"? It is not a mystery play, but a typical dish famous in the annals of Kentucky political gatherings and barbecues. Burgeo, made by special cooks, is a thick vegetable soup, with lots of beef and chicken as the backbone of the stock. This soup is cooked outdoors in huge iron kettles over a wood fire and is served in tin pint cups. Burgeo usually is served with barbecued meat, bread, onions, pickled, sauce and watermelon.

Use boiled rice, instead of bread crumbs, in making your next batch of stuffing for fowl.

dent Judge Keller because he violated his probation by becoming drunk and disorderly.

Hillpot, who pleaded guilty to drunken driving February 15, was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and the costs of prosecution and a prison sentence was suspended.

He was placed on probation until February 15, 1940.

Leslie Garvin, of Trevoze Heights, who was sentenced by the Court to serve not less than one month nor more than two years in the County Prison, was committed to the County Prison for violation of a parole.

A drunk and disorderly charge was lodged against the defendant by his wife while he was on parole, when he became intoxicated and "threatened to clean up his family."

Garvin was granted a parole January 11, and Judge Boyer directed the case to be continued until further investigation can be made to ascertain whether the defendant violated his parole in more instances than that charged by his wife.

"My greatest trouble and only one in life is drink," said Garvin, who is also a W. P. A. worker. He blamed his wife's action on that of a neighbor, whom he termed as busybody and said interfered in everyone's business and urged his wife to arrest him.

Garvin was granted a re-parole by Judge Boyer on condition that he totally abstain from all alcoholic beverages.

Mrs. Leslie Garvin, wife of the defendant, testified that her husband when on a drunken rampage drank six bottles of rubbing alcohol, spirits of nitre, medicines containing alcohol and even ate ointments which he claims "do his stomach good."

He drinks until he becomes paralyzed, Mrs. Garvin testified.

Judge Boyer, before granting the re-parole, said: "It is apparent that even when you are sober enough to know better you insist on taking a drink when you feel like it. You lead yourself into drinking even when you are sober."

Garvin promised the Court he would not drink again, saying: "When I sat down in my cell in jail and thought what a fool I have been I made up my mind not to touch another drop for a year. If I can do that for one year I can do it for several more."

Tuesday, before Judge Boyer, the defendant blamed his drinking habits on bad associates.

"I have heard my husband say 'I wish I could stay away from drink; and he does for a short time,' said Mrs. Garvin.

"How long are you going to stay?" I asked.

"As long as it is necessary," the voice answered, meaning for ever, if necessary. "We can hold out indefinitely."

I asked how about food and ammunition.

"Just look at this warehouse. We have got enough food here to last for a century, and ammunition as well. Listen to our machine guns!"

Truly, they wasted cartridges prodigally.

A terrified detonation a few yards around the corner made me bring the interview to a close, with the question: "But what is the use of staying here when it is utterly impossible for you ever to be relieved?"

For the first time a face appeared at the window. It was a young and intelligent face. Drawn with suffering, but smiling none the less, the voice said:

"We want to die for China."

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

NATIONAL Apple Week heralds an unusually large crop of America's favorite fruit. Florida oranges are now arriving in quantity and quality so that oranges are cheaper than in many months. Grapefruit is plentiful.

Spinach is an outstanding fall vegetable. Salad greens are plentiful and cheap as are most underground vegetables. The cabbage family also flourishes in the fall.

Slightly lower meat prices with the exception of beef are expected this week. Grade B eggs and cheese continue to be excellent values.

Seasonable foods make up the following menus.

TIMELY RECIPES

You Will Want to Try!

Onion Soup

Four large onions; two tablespoons butter; one quart beef broth, or four bouillon cubes, dissolved in four cups boiling water; one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; one-half teaspoon salt; pepper; French bread; grated cheese (preferably Parmesan).

Slice onions thin and brown in butter. Add more butter, if necessary, to keep them from burning. When onions are tender, add beef broth and seasonings. Bring to the boiling point. Pour soup into casserole, arrange slices of toasted French bread on top, sprinkle with grated cheese and place under broiler flame until cheese is melted and browned.

Colorful Pudding

If late Concord grapes are lacking for this recipe, substitute grapejuice. Use one quart stemmed Concord grapes; one cup water; one cup sugar; one-quarter cup of quick cooking tapioca; one-quarter teaspoon salt and one tablespoon lemon juice. Boil the grapes in the water for ten minutes and press through a sieve. To this juicy pulp, add the sugar, tapioca and salt and cook for 25 minutes in the double boiler. Remove from the fire, stir in lemon juice and chill. Serve with plain or whipped cream.

Peach Bavarian Cream

If you are fortunate enough to have your own canned peaches, they will fit into this recipe. Otherwise use the canned variety. Other fruits may be substituted.

Two tablespoons gelatin; one-half cup fruit juice; drained from sliced peaches; one-fourth cup cold water; one and one-half cups peach pulp; one and one-half cups cream.

Soak gelatin in cold water and dissolve in the boiling fruit juice. Cool. Sweeten the peach pulp to taste and add it to the gelatin. Place it in one tray of the automatic icebox, stirring occasionally. When the mixture begins to thicken, fold in the stiffly-beaten cream. Turn into a large mold, or individual molds, which first have been dipped in cold water. Return to the refrigerator until firm. Serve with whipped cream.

Corn Meal Pudding

Here is another dessert recipe, which uses canned peaches (or fresh) in a novel combination with cornmeal. One cup cornmeal; one cup whole-wheat flour; one cup white flour; one-half teaspoon salt; two cups thick sour milk; one-half cup molasses; one teaspoon soda; one pint peaches, cut and drained.

Dissolve soda in sour milk. Mix all ingredients together and steam three hours. Serve with sweetened cream. Sliced tart apple might be used instead of the peaches.

Disguised Spinach

Three cups cooked spinach; two tablespoons butter; salt and pepper; one-half pound cottage cheese; paprika.

Dress cooked and rice spinach with butter, salt and pepper. Arrange on a hot platter and spread with a layer of cottage cheese. Sprinkle with paprika and serve.

Date Nut Bread

One cup dates, pitted and cut; one-half cup chopped nut meats; one cup hot water; one-fourth cup shortening; one-half teaspoon salt; three-fourths cup brown sugar; one well-beaten egg; one teaspoon soda, one and one-half cups sifted flour; one-half cup graham flour.

Combine dates, nuts and hot water and let stand. Combine shortening and salt. Add brown sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Add beaten egg and mix well. Add soda to date mixture and combine with creamed mixture, blending well. Add white and graham flours and mix thoroughly. Pour batter into greased loaf pan and bake in moderate oven 350 degrees F. at least one hour, possibly longer. This bread keeps moist and slices nicely.

Dutch Apple Cake

The apple season is here again and quickly made recipes are in demand. Spread any shortcake mixture three-fourths of an inch thick in a buttered round or oblong pan. Cover the top

Unable to pay, the taxi driver thought it over in the city jail.

HIGH SCHOOL ANXIOUS TO RETAIN RECORD

By Louis Tomlinson

Storm warnings are issued to the keepers of George H. Bristol's Bunny mascot—to keep him penned up, padlocked, and kept in a safe place, at least until this week is over. The reason is that his pen may be stormed by Bristol gridders in pursuit of a lack of charm.

Although Coach Juenger claims that neither he nor his squad is superstitious, nevertheless, everybody at the local school is walking around whistling and keeping fingers crossed as the Cardinals prepare for their important game with Norristown Saturday. And for this reason it may not be suspicious to believe that either coach or some of the boys may desire a rabbit's foot to carry into that fracas on Saturday.

And why not?

Are the Bunnies not faced with the supreme task of trying to conquer one of the most powerful if not the most powerful grid aggregations assembled in this section of Billy Penn's territory when they meet Norristown? Moreover, the Bunnies are also facing the difficult job of preserving their records in this game. First of all they have their undefeated record to guard; second, their unscathed upon record this season; third, a four year record of not having been defeated in a grid tilt (varsity) by more than seven points at the most.

CROWD BOOS REFEREE AS HE GIVES DECISION

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 28.—Amid the protests and boos of the audience, Karl Davis, Memphis bad man, was declared the winner over Irish Jack Kennedy, of Texas, in the feature match of the weekly wrestling show last night at the Arena.

Davis fell on Kennedy after smashing him to the canvas several times with potent forearm blows. The Memphis grappler caught Kennedy unaware and dropped him to the canvas while Irish Jack was attempting to convince the referee that he should have been declared the winner of the bout. The rumpus lasted 40 minutes.

Kennedy missed several opportunities to win the match, but every time he had Davis in a position to make the kill the latter either broke the hold or wiggled his way outside the ropes. On one of these occasions Kennedy met Davis with a potent forearm blow as the latter rebounded off the ropes. Referee Doc Gehman ruled Davis outside to nullify the fall. Another time Jack had Karl in a corner and pounded on his foe, but both were outside.

Kennedy had the crowd with him and the fans were anything but pleased with the outcome. The near-capacity house stood in unison and shouted its disapproval. Kennedy stormed about the ring and besought the referee to rescind his decision. The arbitrator brushed the latter aside and insisted that his verdict was final. Lieutenant James Egan entered the ring during the melee, pacified Kennedy and stifled what appeared a young riot.

Young Jack Holland agreed to put on an iron man act in the semi-windup and filled in for Hans Steink. Holland had won his first bout from Doug Wyckott in the second match on the card. In the windup he met a Tartar in Leo Hyatt, and could gain no better than a draw. Rebel Rob Russell took the third match by pinning Al Mercier in 22 minutes with a body slam. Gafoor Khan took the opener from Andy Metzner after 16 minutes.

ST. ANN'S GRIDDERS PRACTICE FOR BIG GAME

The St. Ann's A. A. gridders practiced last night in preparation for one of their most important combats of the season which will take place Sunday at Sellersville, with the Saints meeting the Sellersville Green Jackets.

This will be the second meeting of the teams. Three seasons ago, St. Ann's won over the Green Jackets, 19-0, which gave the Purple and Gold the county championship. Since then the clubs have not met, rain interfering with the scheduled tilt.

Coach "Bill" Dougherty added another player to his roster last night, signing Joe Donahue, Jenkintown, formerly a member of the Jenkintown High School team. Donahue can be used as a tackle and an end. Dougherty expects a victory over the Sellersville team although he expects a close fight. Sellersville trimmed Doylestown, 40-6, while the localites beat the Blue Box, 12-0.

St. Ann's will come home, November 7th, meeting the Morrisville Tigers, and then will have their annual clash with Joe Egan's Andalusia A. A. the following week.

SMALL GAME SEASON WILL OPEN MONDAY

HARRISBURG, Oct. 28.—The 1937 small game hunting season will open "with a bang" in Pennsylvania next Monday morning at nine o'clock.

Between 550,000 and 600,000 persons have obtained licenses to hunt in Pennsylvania this year and they will have 22 days of small game hunting, 42 days of male deer hunting, five days of bear hunting and three days of antlerless deer hunting.

The three day November 25-27 open season for antlerless deer is for hunters holding a special permit for which the cost was two dollars. This season will be in effect in certain counties as follows: Adams, Armstrong, Bedford, Berks, Blair, Bradford, Butler, Cambria, Cameron, Carbon, Centre (Rush, Taylor, North, Half Moon, Huston, Union, Boggs, Snowshoe, Burnside and Curran townships only), Chester, Clarion, Clearfield (Cooper, Chest, Becarla, Penn and Boggs townships only), Clinton, Columbia, Cumberland, Dauphin, Elk, Fayette, Forest, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Indiana, Jefferson, Juniata, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lehigh, Luzerne, Lycoming, McKean, Mifflin, Monroe, Northampton, Northumberland, Perry, Pike, Potter, Schuylkill, Snyder, Somerset, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, Venango, Warren, Wayne, Westmoreland, Wyoming and York.

The season on ruffed grouse, quail and hares has been cut drastically this year to two weeks while on some other small game species the bag limits were curtailed to give an opportunity to these species to increase in number.

By closing the small game season on Thanksgiving Day, November 25, the Game Commission provided two full holidays, Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day, for hunting. It is illegal to hunt on Sundays.

Raccoons, which were placed in the game animal class by the recent Legislature, may be hunted from November 1 to December 31. In addition raccoons may be trapped from December 1 to December 31 in Bradford, Cameron, Carbon, Centre, Clarion, Clearfield, Clinton, Columbia, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Forest, Jefferson, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Lycoming, McKean, Monroe, Pike, Potter, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, Venango, Warren, Wayne and Wyoming Counties.

Wild turkeys cannot be hunted this year in Clarion, Clearfield, Forest, Schuylkill, Venango and Warren counties and there is no open season in any county for Rhesus, pheasants, Hungarian and Chukar partridges, doves, elk or cub bears.
